TECHNICAL CONTENT WRITER (REMOTE)

DESCRIPTION

Technical Content Writer (Remote)

Company: Developer Bazaar Technologies

Location: Remote (Work From Home)

Employment Type: Full-time

Experience: 2–3 Years (IT Industry Experience Preferred)

About the Role

Developer Bazaar Technologies is looking for a talented Technical Content Writer with 2–3 years of experience to join our growing marketing team. If you're passionate about technology, enjoy simplifying complex concepts, and have experience writing for the IT industry, this opportunity is for you.

You'll create compelling, SEO-driven content for software development, AI, web, mobile applications, SaaS, and emerging technologies while working remotely with a collaborative team.

Key Roles & Responsibilities

- Write engaging and technically accurate blogs, website content, landing pages, case studies, whitepapers, eBooks, and articles.
- Create SEO-optimized content focused on software development, AI, web development, mobile applications, cloud, SaaS, DevOps, and other technology domains.
- Research technical topics and convert complex information into reader-friendly content.
- Collaborate with developers, designers, SEO specialists, and marketing teams to produce high-quality content.
- Develop product documentation, user guides, FAQs, and knowledge base articles.
- Proofread and edit content to ensure grammatical accuracy, consistency, and brand voice.
- Create compelling content for email campaigns, LinkedIn, social media, and other marketing channels.
- Update existing content to improve SEO performance and user engagement.

- Stay updated with the latest technology trends and industry developments.

Required Skills & Qualifications

- 2–3 years of experience as a Technical Content Writer.
- Previous experience in an IT Services, Software Development, SaaS, AI, or Technology company is preferred.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills in English.
- Strong knowledge of SEO content writing and keyword optimization.
- Experience writing technical blogs, web content, case studies, and documentation.
- Strong research and analytical abilities.
- Ability to understand technical concepts and explain them in a simple and engaging way.
- Familiarity with AI writing tools and content optimization tools is an added advantage.
- Self-motivated with excellent time management and the ability to work independently in a remote environment.

What You'll Do

As a Technical Content Writer, you'll help us:

- Build authority through insightful, high-quality technical content.
- Improve organic search rankings with SEO-focused content.
- Educate potential clients about our services and technology expertise.
- Support lead generation through informative and engaging content.
- Strengthen our digital presence across multiple platforms.

Why Join Developer Bazaar Technologies?

- 100% Remote (Work From Home)
- Career growth and continuous learning opportunities
- Collaborative and supportive work culture
- Opportunity to work on cutting-edge technologies like AI, SaaS, Web & Mobile Development
- Flexible work environment with ownership and autonomy
- Recognition for creativity, innovation, and performance
